KEEP BIG BROTHER OUT OF THE BEDROOM

> Americans feel they have a right to read or view whatever they want to in the privacy of their own homes. They do not want the government in their bedroom."
> —Larry Flynt

My husband believed that Americans value their inalienable rights to privacy and freedom of speech. Now Project 2025, a blueprint for a new Trump term written by his closest allies, threatens to strip us of those rights.

Trump has tried unsuccessfully to distance himself from this Heritage Foundation mandate, but the truth is, CNN reported that "at least 140 people who worked in his administration had a hand in Project 2025," and NPR verified that the first Trump Administration "embrac[ed] nearly two-thirds of Heritage's proposals within just one year in office."

Only five pages in, this proposal blatantly states that pornography "has no claim to First Amendment protection" and further that "The people who produce and distribute it should be imprisoned. Educators and public librarians who purvey it should be classed as registered sex offenders. And telecommunications and technology firms that facilitate its spread should be shuttered."

Yes, the insidious anti-porn language in Project 2025 would end your right to view this magazine, or any adult content, but it goes so much further. In the same paragraph it presents "transgender ideology" as a serious danger, a term broad enough not just to rationalize the banning of books—and criminalization of "educators and public librarians"—but cover the very idea that an individual can be transgender. With this extreme-right document, Republicans, the supposed party of limited government, suggest invading the privacy of your bedroom and destroying sexual freedom.

We are not going back. We cannot lose more rights. We must say, along with VP nominee Tim Walz, "Mind your own damn business!" Remember, the greatest right our country affords us is the right to vote!

"I can't get it up anymore! I think I have Reptile Dysfunction!"

DONALD TRUMP

The mop-haired, B-movie monster from Mar-a-Lago is back, terrorizing the nation with the very real prospect of another gut-wrenching four years in the White House. WTF?! In a 2024 survey of scholars and social science experts, the American Political Science Association rated all U.S. Presidents with a 0–100 score, and Donald Trump came in dead last with a 10.92 rating, just behind James Buchanan, who presided before the beginning of the Civil War. As we count down to the fateful day in November, many worry that another bloody conflict may be in the offing, because one thing is certain: Whatever the outcome, Donald Trump is not going to concede defeat. Again.

Recall that he would not even commit to accepting the outcome of the 2016 election before it happened. He won that year due to our crazy Electoral College, but lost the popular vote to Hillary Clinton by nearly 2.9 million votes. He wasn't a sore loser then, but a sore winner, claiming that he had also won the popular vote "if you deduct the millions who voted illegally." Neither he nor any of his sycophants ever presented a scintilla of evidence to back this up.

And we all still cringe over the violent, shameful shitshow on January 6, 2021, based on more phantasmagoric crap about supposed electoral fraud. While Congress was certifying the election that day, Trump held a nearby rally urging his troopers to "take back our country" and "fight like hell"—virtual marching orders to storm the Capitol. "This in and of itself puts Trump in the lowest circle of hell among America's Presidents," states constitutional scholar Akhil Amar of Yale Law School. Trump's legal eaglets filed 62 lawsuits in nine states and the District of Columbia challenging the results. Almost all of these were dismissed for lack of standing or lack of evidence, including 30 rejected after a judicial hearing on the merits. Several of these judges were appointed by Trump and presumably favorable to him. Over 140 police officers were injured in that invasion, including Michael Fanone, who suffered a heart attack after being tased by MAGA rebels. "This is who Donald Trump is," said Mr. Fanone, "a sick motherfucker who fetishizes violence committed on his behalf."

Trump still clings to this Big Lie because he has absolutely zero respect for the truth. Yes, all politicians fib to an extent, because most citizens would rather hear fairy tales than hard truths, but Trump is in a league of his own. The Washington Post tallied 30,573 fibs or misleading statements by President Trump over his four years in office, and the BS actually increased from about six lies per day in his first year to a whopping 39 per day in 2020. That makes him the all-time gold-medal champ of political duplicity.

Trump brags that, "No President has ever done what I've done. No President has ever even come close." Here's where he really ranks number-one: He is the only President never to reach a 50% approval rating in the Gallup poll, which began in 1938—and the only President to have been impeached twice (the GOP-dominated Senate refused to convict him in both cases). He and his cronies have been involved in more than 4,000 legal actions, including six business bankruptcies. He is alleged to have repeatedly stiffed contractors employed by his construction projects. He had to pay $25 million to defrauded students of his Trump University. In 2019, he had to pay $2 million for misusing funds from his charitable Trump Foundation to finance his election campaign. In 2023, he had to pay $5 million to E. Jean Carroll for sexual abuse and defamation, and a further $83.3 million to her this January for defamation. In May, he was found guilty of 34 felonies involving falsifying business records and campaign finance laws in the Stormy Daniels hush-money case—the first ever criminal indictment of a former President. Special Counsel Jack Smith is still pursuing the 2020 election interference and purloined classified documents cases, comprising multiple felonies for which Trump could be fined millions and sentenced to prison time—unless he wins and pardons himself.

While he pays obligatory lip service to gender and racial equality, there is little doubt that Donnie is a sexist, racist asshole at heart. A total of 26 women have accused him of rape or groping them without consent, and his successful overturning of Roe v. Wade has already endangered many women's lives. About "the Squad's" four Democratic women of color (Representatives Ocasio-Cortez, Omar, Tlaib and Pressley), he said, "Why don't they go back and help fix the totally broken and crime-infested places from which they came?"—suggesting that these American citizens (three of them native-born) didn't belong in the country due to their race. Since Kamala Harris took the torch from Joe Biden, Trump has called her "dumb as a rock," "nasty," a "bum," "real garbage," and suggested that her identity as a Black woman (as well as South Asian) is a political stunt. Guess what: Multiracial people have existed for centuries, and there are an increasing number of them in America, you fucking moron!

Recall his botched handling of the COVID pandemic after he had dismantled Obama's pandemic response unit and cut the CDC's budget. His massive tax cuts for the rich amplified inequality and supercharged the national debt. He masqueraded as a champion of the working class while opposing House legislation to raise the minimum wage, and opposed unions. He is still fully committed to abolishing the Affordable Care Act with no alternative plan, forcing millions of Americans to survive with no health insurance. Some populist!

But the worst thing he did was withdraw this country from the Paris Climate Agreement, signed by 195 member states of the U.N. in 2016. Biden rejoined the Agreement in 2021, a year after Trump officially withdrew, but Trump will sabotage it again with his oil-soaked mantra, "Drill, baby, drill!" As global temperatures continue to soar out of sight, it might as well be "Dig, baby, dig" your own grave. This is a true existential threat that must be stopped!

A second Trump term would also be an existential threat to our democracy, especially after the recent Supreme Court ruling (Trump v. United States) that POTUS is absolutely immune from all criminal prosecution for official acts. This is a legal enzyme for an aspiring tyrant, and there's little doubt that Donald Trump is actually planning to rule like one. He disavows any connection with Project 2025, the radical 922-page document hatched by many of his first-term officials at the Heritage Foundation, but he's almost certainly lying again. The document is a feverish right-wing blueprint that would enable a President to eliminate job protections for thousands of government employees and install loyalists in those roles, bring federal agencies such as the Department of Justice under direct presidential control, remove the abortion pill mifepristone from the market, slash taxes on corporations, ramp up energy production and ban pornography.

You think maybe Trump as dictator is paranoid hyperbole? Listen to what he told a rally in West Palm Beach in July: "Christians, get out and vote! Just this time—you won't have to do it anymore…. In four years, you don't have to vote again. We'll have it fixed so good, you're not gonna have to vote." There you have it, folks, straight from the Asshole's own mouth. Either you storm the polls on November 5th in overwhelming numbers and vote against this vain, sick, dangerous asswipe—or it might be the last time you ever vote!

COME ALONG FOR THE RIDE

PHOTOGRAPHY BY DAVIDE ESPOSITO

When I was younger, I wasn't very sexually open, and I didn't know anything about porn. My parents were protective, and I was quite obedient—a very nice girl who did what I was told. I'd only had sex once before getting into the adult entertainment industry, so naturally I was stressed out about doing my first shoot.

“As it turns out, I had no reason to be so nervous. Porn has been wonderful for me. It has given me so much freedom—financial independence, the opportunity to travel and, of course, sexual liberation. In this job, I have learned to understand sex, and I have opened up to new experiences. In fact, the first time I had an orgasm was on that initial shoot! I can't wait to find out what kind of adventures porn takes me on next, and I hope you'll come along for the ride!”

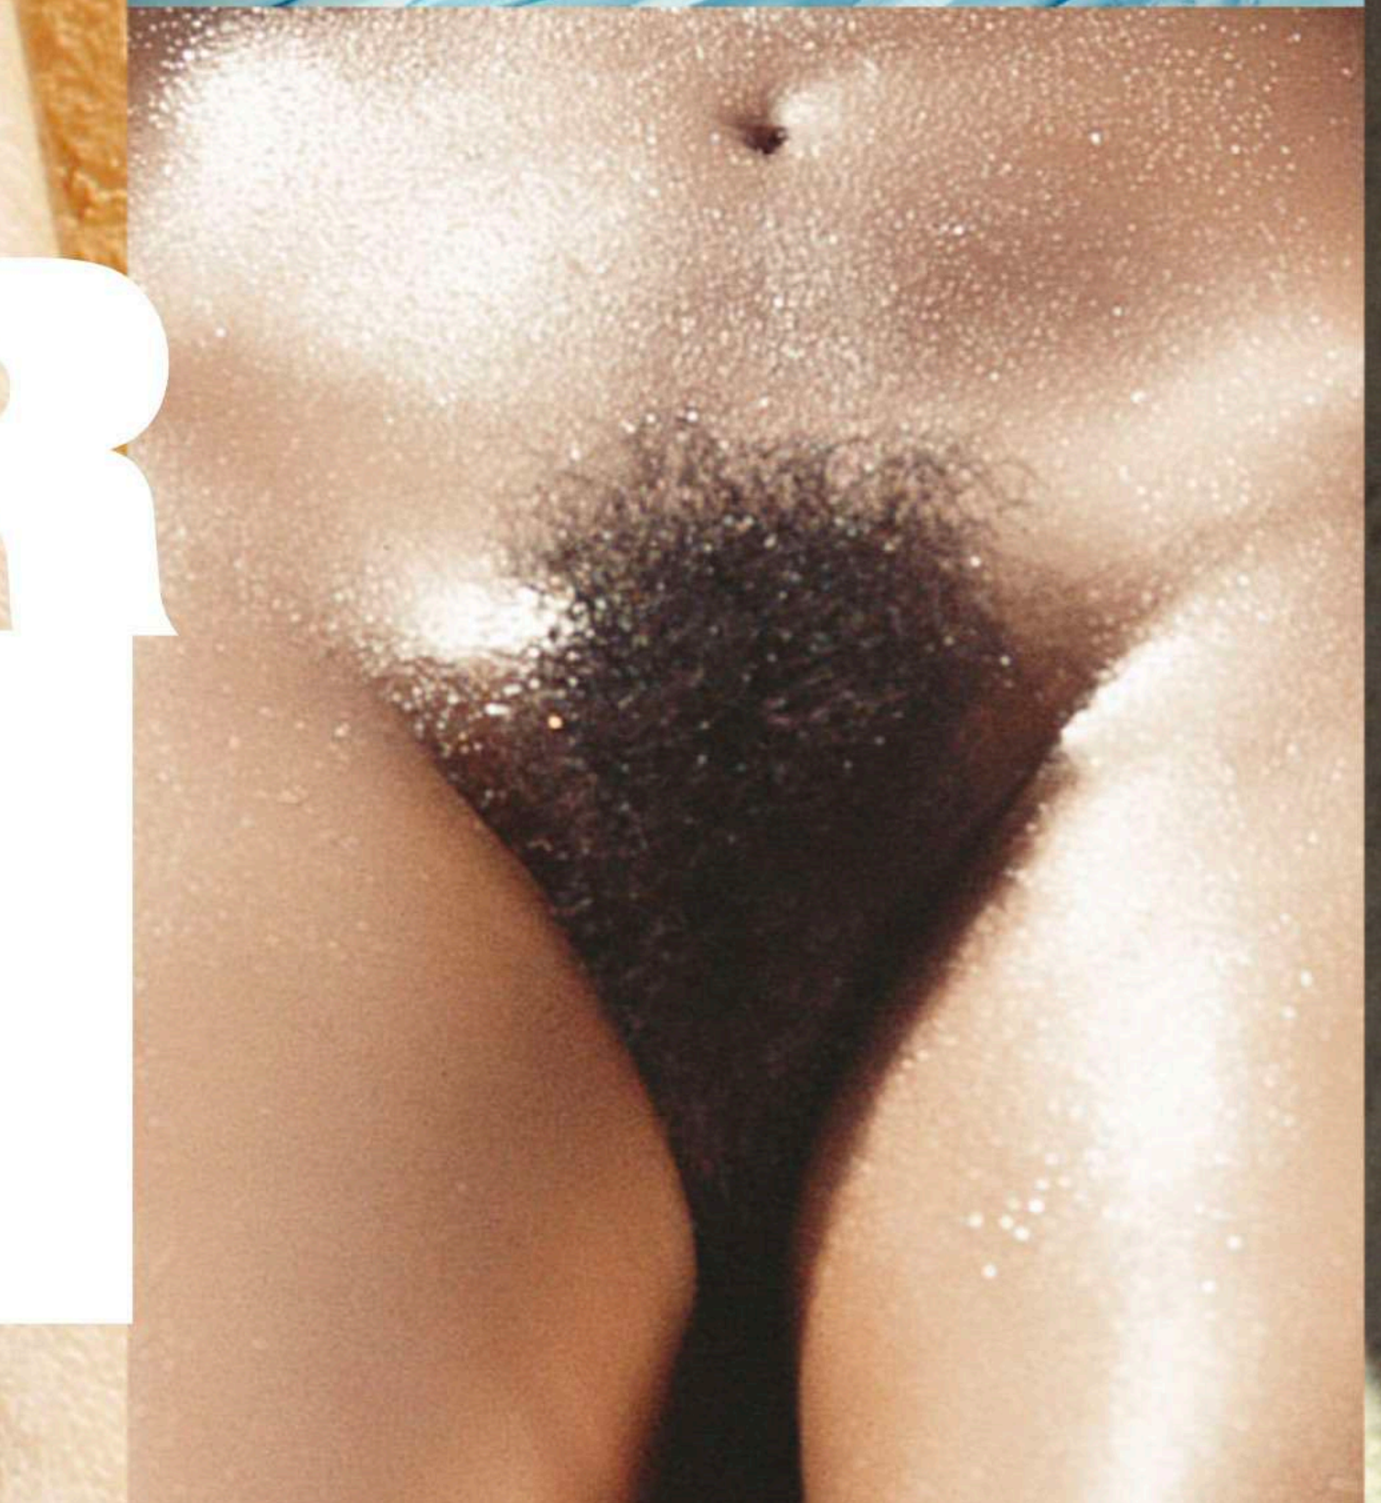
PUSH FOR BUSH



> “If the Good Lord had wanted pussy shaved, he wouldn’t have put hair on it.”
> —Larry Flynt

Twirl your fingers through springy curls. Tug on them with your teeth. Feel pubes brush against your cheek—or tickle your prick as you slide deep into pussy. HUSTLER has long supported the push for bush and is pleased with its comeback. To remind you what a truly glorious bush looks like, here are a few of our favorites. Enjoy.

I'm small—under five feet tall—but that doesn't mean I don't like to express my dominant side sometimes. Once I even pegged a guy in the ass! He was a big, strong bodybuilder type too. I felt like the world champion of sex, dominating him like that!

"A surefire way to get me off is to finger me. Do it right, and I come like crazy. I like getting my ass fingered too…and eaten! It's one of the best feelings in the world. I also love to give rimjobs, though some guys can be self-conscious about it. I had one boyfriend I practically had to beg to eat his ass. It's like, 'Come on, dude. Lighten up!'

"Another thing I really enjoy is fucking in public. I've done it practically everywhere—from elevators to parking lots and beyond. I've even gotten fingered while riding on the back of a motorcycle. I still get wet just thinking about it!"

KAYLIN

PHOTOGRAPHY BY J.S.H.

Kaylin left the sleepy town of Bradenton, Florida, with big dreams of Hollywood stardom. After being hit on by several slimy mainstream producers at auditions, she decided to give nude modeling a try. “People in the adult business at least seem to be a bit more honest about things,” the diminutive damsel reflects. “You know what you are going to get.”

Did Kaylin ever foresee entering the wonderful world of adult entertainment? “Not really,” she replies. “I kind of saw myself as the shy girl-next-door type on a sitcom. But when people first see me, they think I’m a bad girl. An ex-boyfriend said I have the face and body of a slut and the heart of an angel.”

Is Kaylin a dirty little thang? “I love sex,” the beauty purrs, “and I love to try and do anything. I’ve been very dirty at times, having sex in public and things like that. At this point in my life the only thing I haven’t done is a threesome. It’s kind of my ultimate fantasy, but it has to be with the right guy and the right girl to make it work.”

What else does the bodacious blonde do for fun? “I’m an assimilated California girl now,” Kaylin coos. “I love the fact that you can go to the beach year-round here. I spent last Thanksgiving in Malibu, eating turkey and drinking piña coladas with my feet in the sand and my dog Daisy playing in the waves. I love to surf, suntan and skinny-dip. I do that mostly in pools though.”

Can we count on more naked photos or fuck films from Kaylin down the line? “I’m fully up for posing nude for magazine layouts, alone and with girls,” she reckons, “but I’m not sure about the hard-core movie stuff. I’m not saying no, but I’m not saying yes either. Maybe. Maybe, baby.”

ELLE ALEXANDRA (WITH NATALIE HEART), SEPTEMBER '16

RED ALERT

Fiery and fierce, a redhead is unforgettable. She demands attention, is impossible to ignore. Lucille Ball maintained, "Once in his life, every man is entitled to fall madly in love with a gorgeous redhead." Through the years we've fallen hard for magnificent gingers more times than we can count. Selecting favorites this month prompted intense staff arguments, but in the end—after several vulgar profanities and one agonizing trip to HR—we decided on the beauties gracing these pages. See red with us. Enjoy.

Growing up, I was very sexual, which wasn't easy, because I come from a very conservative family in the Bible Belt—I had to sign abstinence cards saying that I would wait until marriage to have sex! It was so, so dumb.

"I've also been attracted to girls from an early age. In school, I would kiss other girls in the bathroom, but people found out about it and made fun of me. So I had to push that aspect of my sexuality aside for a while. I didn't really hook up with a girl until I was around 18.

"When it comes to sex, I'm a fan of the rough stuff—spitting, spanking, hair pulling, getting thrown around. And if someone's going down on me, I prefer it if they're not so gentle. Rub my clit hard with your tongue and suck on it, dammit!

"As far as men go, I like them a little on the heavier side. Give me a dad bod any time! And I love to give blowjobs. I get really messy with it and make the guy's cock nice and slick. Giving head is one of my favorite things in the world. I'm a pleaser—making people feel good makes me feel good!"

INTERVIEW BY MISSY MARTINEZ

RACHEL WOLFSON HAS TAKEN THE COMEDY WORLD BY THE THROAT AND HAS NO PLANS OF LETTING GO ANY TIME SOON. FROM HER FUCKING FUNNY STAND-UP TO HER ANTICS AS THE FIRST FEMALE MEMBER OF JACKASS, THIS SEXY AND HILARIOUS POWERHOUSE MAKES US WANT TO JOIN HER WOLFSON PACK!

HUSTLER: Holy shit, it's Rachel Wolfson! How the hell are you?
RACHEL WOLFSON: I'm great! Thank you guys for having me.

Did you ever think you'd be in HUSTLER Magazine wearing clothes?
I always knew I'd end up here. It's an honor to be in HUSTLER Magazine even with my clothes on! My mom and dad are going to be so proud.

Hell, yeah. Glad we could make your HUSTLER dreams come true! Is there something about the magazine that stands out to you?
HUSTLER has always been the ultimate form of freedom of expression. As a comedian, I can really appreciate how the magazine doesn't hold back and fought for its right to exist.

You've been touring like a maniac, performing comedy all across the country. What differences have you noticed since you moved to L.A. to start stand-up in 2016 compared to now?
Comedians are using social media like never before to promote themselves. Crowd-work clips are all over my timeline. New scenes are emerging, like the Austin comedy scene—which is where I'm based for now. More clubs are opening, which means the comedy industry is growing. Also, comedians don't need clubs to make it anymore, and you don't necessarily need to move to L.A. or New York to succeed. You can do it in your hometown; all it takes is one clip to change your life.

Austin, Texas, has definitely been putting its mark on the comedy map. How is the Texas comedy scene setting itself apart from the L.A. and New York comedy hubs?
I love the Austin comedy scene. It's young, up and coming, and the hustle is real. What I love about Austin is how focused they are specifically on stand-up. These comics don't care about Hollywood; they care about the next joke and becoming undeniable. You will get people in L.A. using comedy as a vehicle for something else. Comics in Austin really just care about the art. There are a lot of good comedians coming out of Austin, and because of shows like Kill Tony, they have a variety of ways to showcase themselves to the world.

You mentioned social media being an invaluable tool for boosting a comic's career. How have you been using it?
I started on social media before I got into stand-up. I was a meme-er, specifically weed memes. This eventually led me to the stage. I thought, How can I take my humor on the internet and translate it to the art of stand-up comedy? I wanted to expand my humor. The internet is the new stage. Posting is a way to stay relevant and in people's minds. I will post stand-up clips, jokes, pics, etc., to promote upcoming shows.

Is there a joke you think is absolutely hilarious but it never lands well with the audience?
If the joke doesn't land with the audience, I'll either keep working on it so it does or I'll shelve it. My goal is to have all my jokes land and discover why the ones that don't don't.

What is your writing process like?
Sometimes I'll work on a joke for years. I will work on it until it becomes funny. Sometimes I'll shelve jokes because I want to come back to them later. I record every set I do, and I am always thinking, writing jokes every single day of my life. I can't get comedy out of my head. I'm a wordsmith; I'm obsessed with words and jokes. Some might call it autism. I call it my process. It's important as comedians to take risks. You do this by trying new jokes out onstage and not being afraid to bomb. Bombing is a necessary part of stand-up. You have to know what doesn't work in order to learn what does. The only way to do this is by going up and trying new material and listening back to your set to hear what landed and why.

Tough question: As a comedian, which current stand-up performers never fail to get you to laugh?
These are the comedians that never fail to make me laugh: Felipe Esparza, Kam Patterson, Reier Cammerman, Gabby Lamb, Sam Grody, Liz Splatt, Dylan Sullivan, Dylan Carlino, Thai Rivera and Mat Edgar. I love watching these comedians and am constantly inspired by them. They've all been doing stand-up different amounts of time, and it's cool to see them evolve in their own way.

You were a big marijuana enthusiast—to say the least—for a long time. How did your passion for the devil's lettuce begin?
I've been on antidepressants my entire life. I didn't start smoking until I was 19 and out of my parents' house. My mom and dad were really strict growing up, and they told me if I smoked weed, I would die. I believed them until I went to college and an ex introduced me to weed. It wasn't until I moved to L.A. that I started working in dispensaries. I'm lucky I got to be part of the industry before it turned corporate. I still love weed, but my relationship with it has recently changed. Now that I'm sober, I hope to continue to support the industry, but just in a different way. I don't know what that means yet, but I will in time.

Did weed used to play a role in your comedic process?
At one point weed did play a role. It's how I got into stand-up. I made weed memes, and it taught me how to write. This led me to getting into stand-up, which led me to Jackass. I wouldn't change anything from my past. I accomplished so much while using weed, but since quitting, I've realized it prevented me from giving my all onstage and in life. I used to get high and go onstage, and I would feel disconnected. Now that I'm not smoking weed, it's been much better for me comedically. I feel like I've improved as a performer. My timing has improved, and I'm able to think quicker on my feet.

There are many reasons why I decided to quit. I had been a smoker for 18 years. I went home to Vegas recently, and I was spending time with my parents. They brought up a memory from the past, and I had no recollection of it—that frightened me. My grandmother passed away from lung cancer when she was 56, and she was a smoker. It really affected my mom, and I couldn't imagine putting her through that again. I realized in that moment it was time for me to stop. I woke up the next day, and my boyfriend asked me if I wanted to smoke weed, and I didn't; I haven't smoked weed since. I still love weed, but it stopped loving me back. I don't judge anyone for smoking weed either; it was just time for me to make a change.

Is having sex sober better or worse?
It depends on the person. For me, sometimes when I smoked weed before sex, I'd just ended up joking and laughing. Like I'd use my boyfriend's dick as a microphone and tap it to ask if this thing's on. Luckily my boyfriend is a comedian, so we both have a sense of humor when it comes to sex. I think sex is better when you and whoever you're having sex with are in the same mind frame.

Did growing up with strict parents affect your decision to pursue comedy?
Initially I felt like getting into comedy would disappoint my parents. At first they thought it was a hobby, and it wasn't until I started having success in comedy did they realize that this could be a career for me. My parents have come a long way. They have grown just as I have, and they are extremely supportive now. It took many years of disappointing them to get to this place, and now they are proud of me.

There has been a big shift in comedy as of late regarding punching down and talking about specific topics. Have you felt any effects from this growing PC pressure?
Certain words can be triggering to audiences. Sometimes all it takes is one word to set someone off. I think there is a way to make anything funny. No topic is off limits in my opinion. Anything has the opportunity to be funny; it's just how you do it.

> “SOMETIMES TAKING A WALK CAN CHANGE YOUR WHOLE DAY OR RUBBING ONE OUT. NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER OF JERKING OFF.”

When you're not onstage, what can we find you doing?
Trying to get onstage. That's my idea of fun, is getting to practice my art. But when I'm not doing stand-up, I like to be outdoors, work out and hang with friends.

Do you have a certain ritual you do after you have a killer set or when you have a not-so-great set?
No matter if I do well or not, I'm always trying to be better for the next time. This involves asking the right questions, like why didn't this joke hit? Is it my inflection? What word or words can I change to make sure this joke hits harder?

Dealing with depression is an uphill and sometimes, sadly, a lifelong battle. How have you been navigating your mental health and wellness in the comedy scene?
These last few years have been a real struggle for me. I've dealt with mental health issues my entire life. I was diagnosed with ADHD and put on Ritalin when I was five and misdiagnosed bipolar when I was 12. In college I was given the diagnosis of borderline personality disorder. This is something I've been working on in therapy ever since. Right now I'm currently in nine hours of intense therapy a week to deal with trauma from my past. Being mentally and physically healthy is the number one priority for me. The more stable I am, the better I feel onstage. It's important to also find things to enjoy outside of comedy. Self-care is something that is important to me, because when I'm feeling down, there are things I know I can do to make myself feel better.

Thank you for sharing your mental health journey. Do you have any advice/tips for readers who may be struggling with mental health issues?
My advice is do what's best for you. If you need medication, then explore that route. Therapy is always a good option, and it's helpful to have someone to talk to. It's okay to ask for help, as we all have mental health and will struggle with it at some point. Seek help before it gets worse. Find things that bring you joy. Sometimes taking a walk can change your whole day or rubbing one out. Never underestimate the power of jerking off.

2022 was a huge year for you—you became the first female cast member of the beloved and iconic Jackass franchise! What was that entire experience like?
It was one of the best times of my life. It was so surreal to me—I grew up watching these guys get kicked in the nuts and hurting themselves. I'll never forget showing up to set and meeting the guys in person for the first time. It felt like I'd known them my entire life because I'd seen them on TV for years. I was nervous the first day, as I didn't know what to expect. I remember calling my mom and telling her about getting asked to do Jackass, and I think Mom was worried about me getting hurt and putting stuff up my butt. Only one of those things happened! I feel so lucky that I was chosen to be part of this crazy family. I really love them all.

In Jackass Forever, you more than held your own. Have you always been adventurous and had an iron stomach?
I've always been impulsive and liked doing things I've been told I shouldn't do. When I got the call to do Jackass, I knew this was something I had to do and it was going to be an adventure, which is something I've always craved. I like pushing myself and boundaries and seeing what fears I can overcome. I knew I'd get challenged, on Jackass, into doing things that I normally wouldn't do. It turns out, I enjoy hurting myself for entertainment more than I thought.

If you were to recreate one of the iconic stunts in the previous Jackass films, which one would you choose and why?
There's no stunt I'd recreate—to me, they are all perfect and art, and I don't know if I could do them justice. If we ever do another film, I have so many ideas that I'd like to try. I would have loved to have been there for Terror Taxi, as that prank has so many layers, and just when you think it's already insane, it gets crazier. I fell in love with pranks because of Jackass and Prank Panel. I learned so much from [Johnny] Knoxville about the art of pranking.

Did you receive any criticism once Jackass was released, given it has been a pretty much male-dominated franchise?
The feedback I've gotten has been mostly positive. I have gotten messages from young girls who are inspired to see someone like them up on the big screen doing crazy shit. I try not to focus on the negative comments about how I barely did anything in the movie—I was in just as many scenes as everyone else. I didn't turn down any stunts either and said yes to everything they asked me to do. I think being part of the new cast was difficult for some of the fans to accept, and that's their problem.

Since it's HUSTLER, I have to ask—what would your porn star name be?
Dirty Vegas. It's a nickname from college that came from an English house music group. My friend started calling me that one day, and I think it would be a great name.

> "I THINK MOM WAS WORRIED ABOUT ME GETTING HURT AND PUTTING STUFF UP MY BUTT. ONLY ONE OF THOSE THINGS HAPPENED!"

Dirty Vegas is an amazing stage name. What sex act would you be world-famous for in porn?
I'd be famous for making someone laugh while they come.

Speaking of porn, is it something you watch?
I'll watch porn with my boyfriend sometimes. He's into really vanilla porn though, and I'm more picky. Oftentimes we will end up scrolling porn sites the way people search for something to watch on Netflix.

When looking for the perfect XXX scene, what factors do you look for? Any particular categories?
I just like hot people. So whoever is in the scene has to be hot to me. I'm boring—I like couples porn or, like, two hot chicks.

You have an amazing account where you share the DMs you get on social media, mostly from guys "shooting their shot." Are there any particular messages you've received that really stuck with you or you have to applaud?
1. You're way too hot to have no ass.
2. I have a crush on you, but that makes sense because I'm mentally ill.
3. My son named his Fleshlight after you.
4. Your pussy looks like it exhales with an attitude.

Those are some amazing pickup lines! As a public figure, do the not-so-nice comments on social media ever get to you? If so, how do you deal with it?
I have an album in my phone titled "When I'm Sad," and it's filled with nice things people have said to me to remind me in case I forget. For the most part, those people on the internet could never do what I do. It's easy to hide behind a keyboard when you're a giant pussy. People like to project upon others who are living their dreams. It's nice to live rent-free in some people's heads.

Regarding your "When I'm Sad" album, what types of things have people said that help to cheer you up?
Here's one: "Your set was fire last night and got some of the most laughs of any other comic onstage that I noticed. You're one of the few comics I've seen lately that each time I see ya, it's better than the last time and you pop even more so." I love when people notice my improvement and how hard I work. When I get messages like this, it reminds me why I keep going and how important it is to me to master this art form. I won't rest until I'm a beast, and when I get there, I'll only continue to work harder. When people respond to how I talk about mental health onstage, I realize the impact my words can have. If it reaches people, then I know I'm doing the right thing. There's also a picture of sold-out shows of mine.

Very important question: Is there such a thing as an attractive pair of balls?
Balls come in all shapes and sizes, so I can't ball-shame, and thanks to Jackass, I've seen balls in all kinds of conditions. Rock whatever you got; that's what I say.

Another very important question: If you could make your vagina taste like anything in the world, what would it be and why?

A Bloody Mary, because who doesn't enjoy a good cocktail?

What can all your fans look forward to next from you?
A lot more stand-up.

Before we go—tell us about your podcast Rachel Interrupted.
I recently decided to get back into podcasting. I launched a new show on YouTube called Rachel Interrupted. It's just a podcast about my life and where I'm at. I moved to Austin to pursue comedy in a different scene than where I started in L.A. It gives me the opportunity to give my audience a glimpse into my life. My boyfriend Mat is my cohost, and we just talk about what's going on in our lives week to week. Right now it's only on YouTube, as I'm trying to grow my platform. Eventually I'd like to have guests, but right now I'm having fun focusing on me. I hope people will enjoy getting to know me better and relate to the things I am going through in my life. I'd like to get more into opening up about my mental health struggles and also provide insight into my comedy journey. I hope people will continue to follow me in this new chapter of sobriety in my life, and maybe it will reach someone who is also struggling with the same things I am. H

Stay up to date with Rachel by following her on socials, listening to her pod and checking out her tour dates. Hell, she might even sign a copy of this issue! SERENE SIREN & AUBREE VALENTINE

DON’T STOP

PHOTOGRAPHY BY LARRY FLYNT PRODUCTIONS

Pussies are like snowflakes—no two are alike. Some women prefer a feather-light approach when you're going down on them, others enjoy a lot of direct clitoral stimulation, and still others need penetration to get off. The important thing is to discuss preferences beforehand… and also leave some room to explore, because she might not even be sure exactly how she likes it. Pay attention to how she reacts, and when you do find what she likes, just keep doing it! Don't stop until you've made her come!” —Serene

I was a loner and didn't date much growing up, but I sure did a lot of fucking! I got with a lot of guys, and I guess you could say I was kind of slutty compared to the other girls in my school. Even so, I was very shy, so I was pretty nervous when I shot my first porn scene. Working in this industry has given me a lot of confidence, though, and there are a ton of fantasies I'd like to explore over the course of my career. Can I get an all-girl orgy, pretty please?” —Aubree

HUSTLER CLASSIC
NOVEMBER 2008

PHOTOGRAPHY BY MARK LIT FOR DIGITAL DESIRE

Jelena Jensen is hot: “I got into this business for the sex. Not the money, the sex. I can make money anywhere, but the promise of sex with the hottest women on Earth is what appeals to me most.”

Jelena is cool: “In my private life I let guys pursue me. Just because I do porn doesn’t mean I’m easy. A girl likes to be romanced before she lets you in her pants. If you wine and dine me, then soon in your bed you may just find me.”

Jelena is no fool: “I’m a realist when it comes to the porn industry. I know there’s only one Jenna Jameson, and no one is ever going to be as huge as her. I also know that a lot of porn actresses end up in bad places. That’s why I stay away from drugs. Sure, I like to party, but I know it’s important to keep my head on straight.”

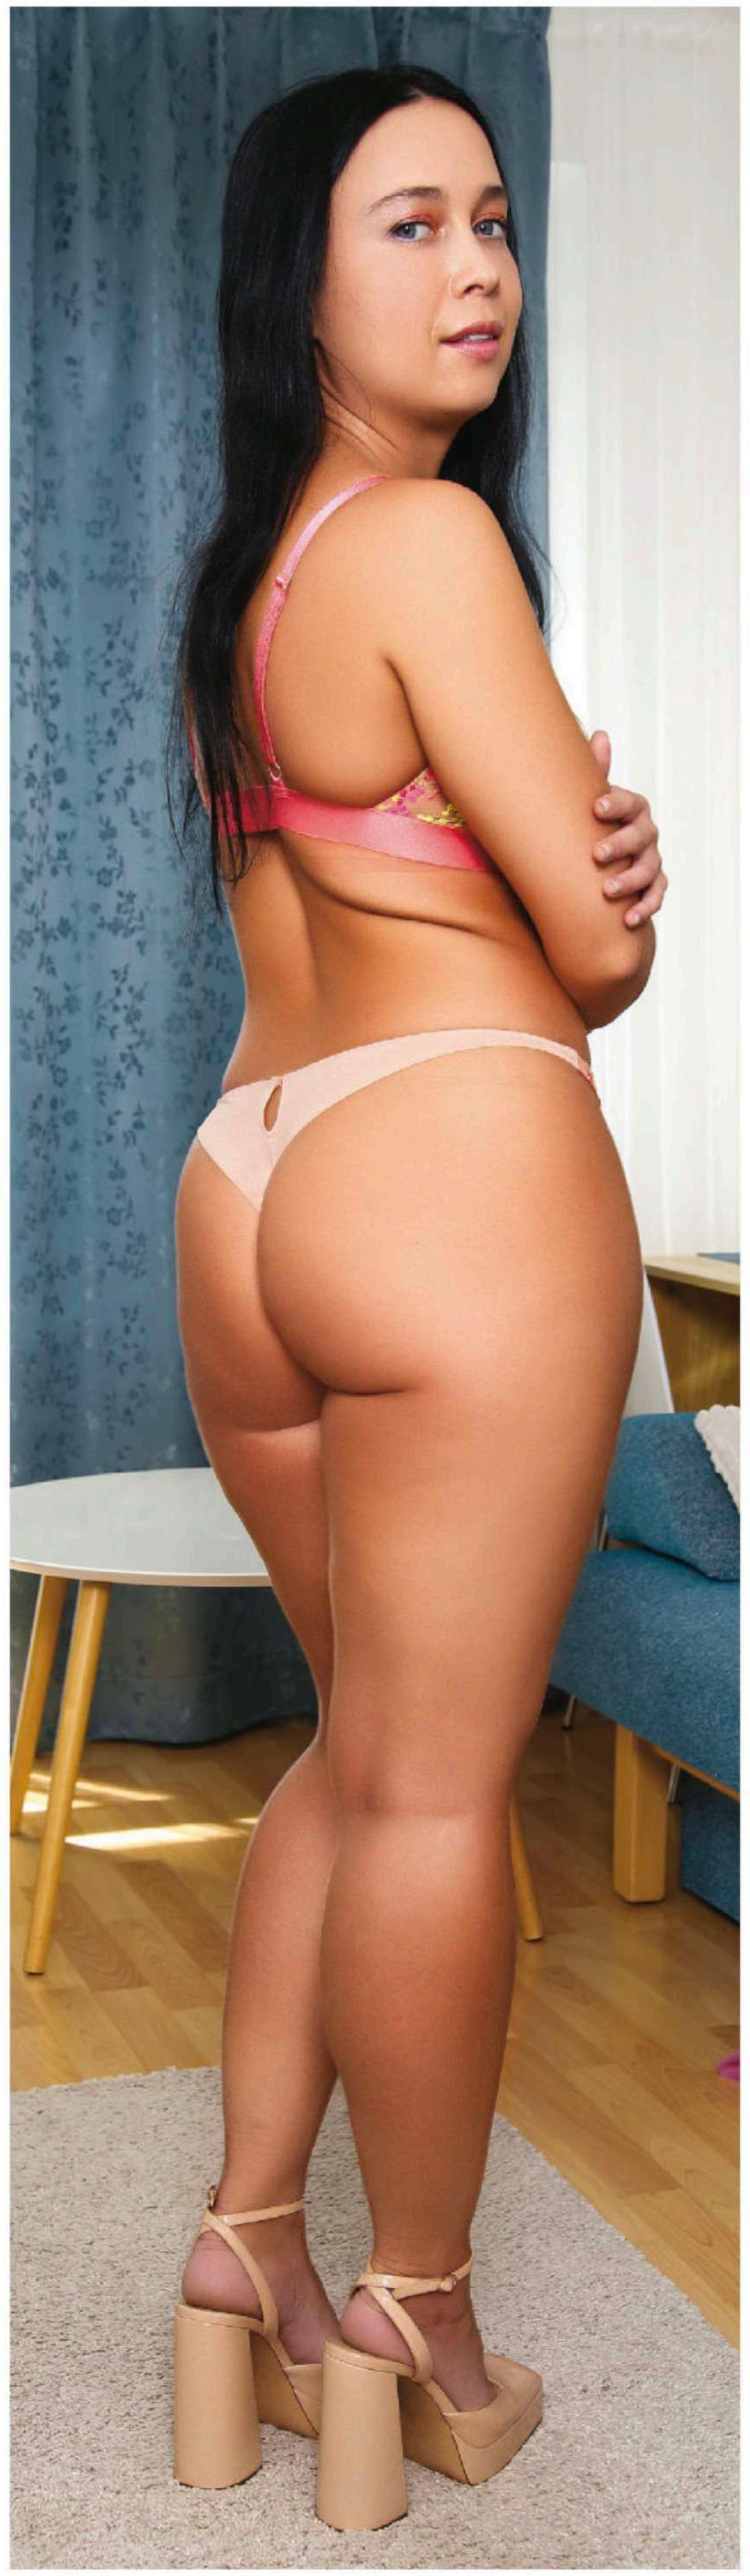
BEAVER HUNT®

EDITED BY MORGEN "TEX" HAGEN



KIRSTEN FOG

"I'm a very happy woman," proclaims Kirsten Fog, 34, an office worker from Hradek Kárlové, Czechia. "I'm always smiling, and I love to make others smile too." Nude modeling is just the latest way the 5-foot-3 fitness aficionada does that. "When I'm at home watching a TV show or movie with a guy," Kirsten owns up, "I'll be busy playing with his cock and sucking it before too long. Nothing turns me on more than pleasuring my partners, male or female." She welcomes being pleasured as well. "I really fancy getting eaten out," Kirsten elaborates. "That's why I always shave my pussy, and anal sex is fantastic too. The more holes to fill, the better." No wonder Kirsten's amorous fantasy is "group sex with a bunch of my closest friends."

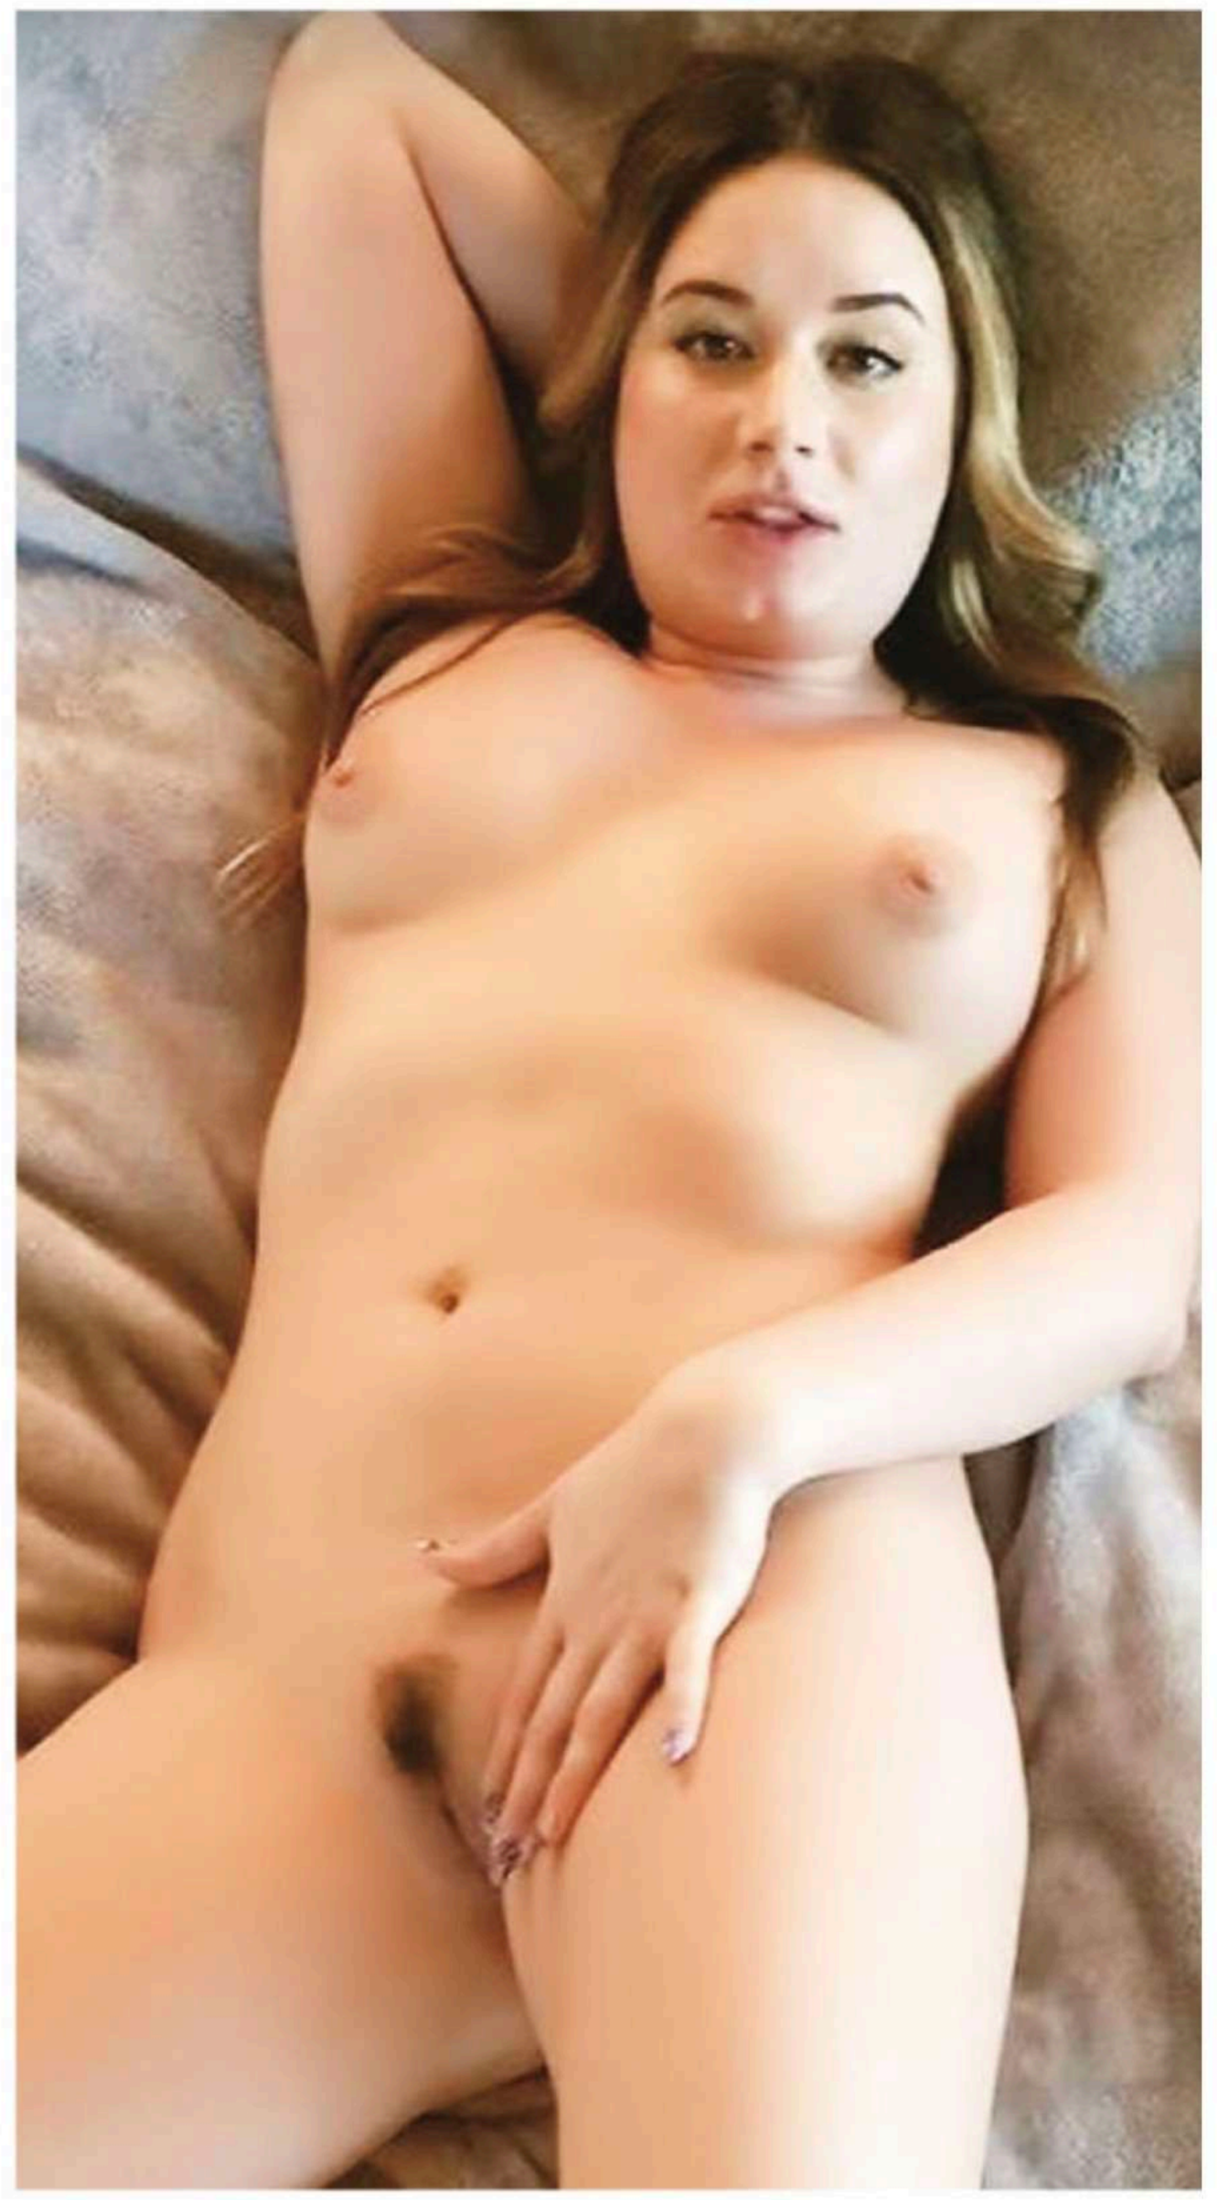
"A big, hard dick always makes me happy, and so do guys and girls who know what to do with their tongues."

Birthday Delights

“I’ve always felt that women are at their most glorious when they’re in their birthday suits,” pronounced HUSTLER’s founder and publisher Larry Flynt, who was born on November 1, 1942. Taking his adage to heart, we’ve rounded up a handful of glorious Beavers celebrating birthdays in November. “I figured it was time to put a check mark next to HUSTLER on my bucket list,” recalled Kiera Costa, a professional dominatrix and published author from San Francisco, California. “I’d dreamed about being in the mag for almost 20 years.” Also hailing from San Francisco is Jane Teese, an “outgoing, flirtatious and, according to my man, fearless” flight attendant. Esmi—an aspiring actress, gamer and Star Wars fan from Sunrise, Florida—told us, “I can’t think of a better way to send positive energy than showing off my naked body.” Skin-mag neophyte Cori Ann from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, disclosed, “I’ve tried to attain the utmost self-confidence and self-love by modeling online. But being photographed for a major magazine was my ultimate goal.” Sharon White—a XXX model from Budapest, Hungary—marveled, “I’m excited about appearing in HUSTLER. I hope I’ll excite your readers too.” Happy birthday, ladies!

KIERA COSTA



JANE TEESE

“I dream a lot about having dark, evil sex with Darth Vader. I’ll play with his lightsaber. May the Force be inside me!”

ESMI

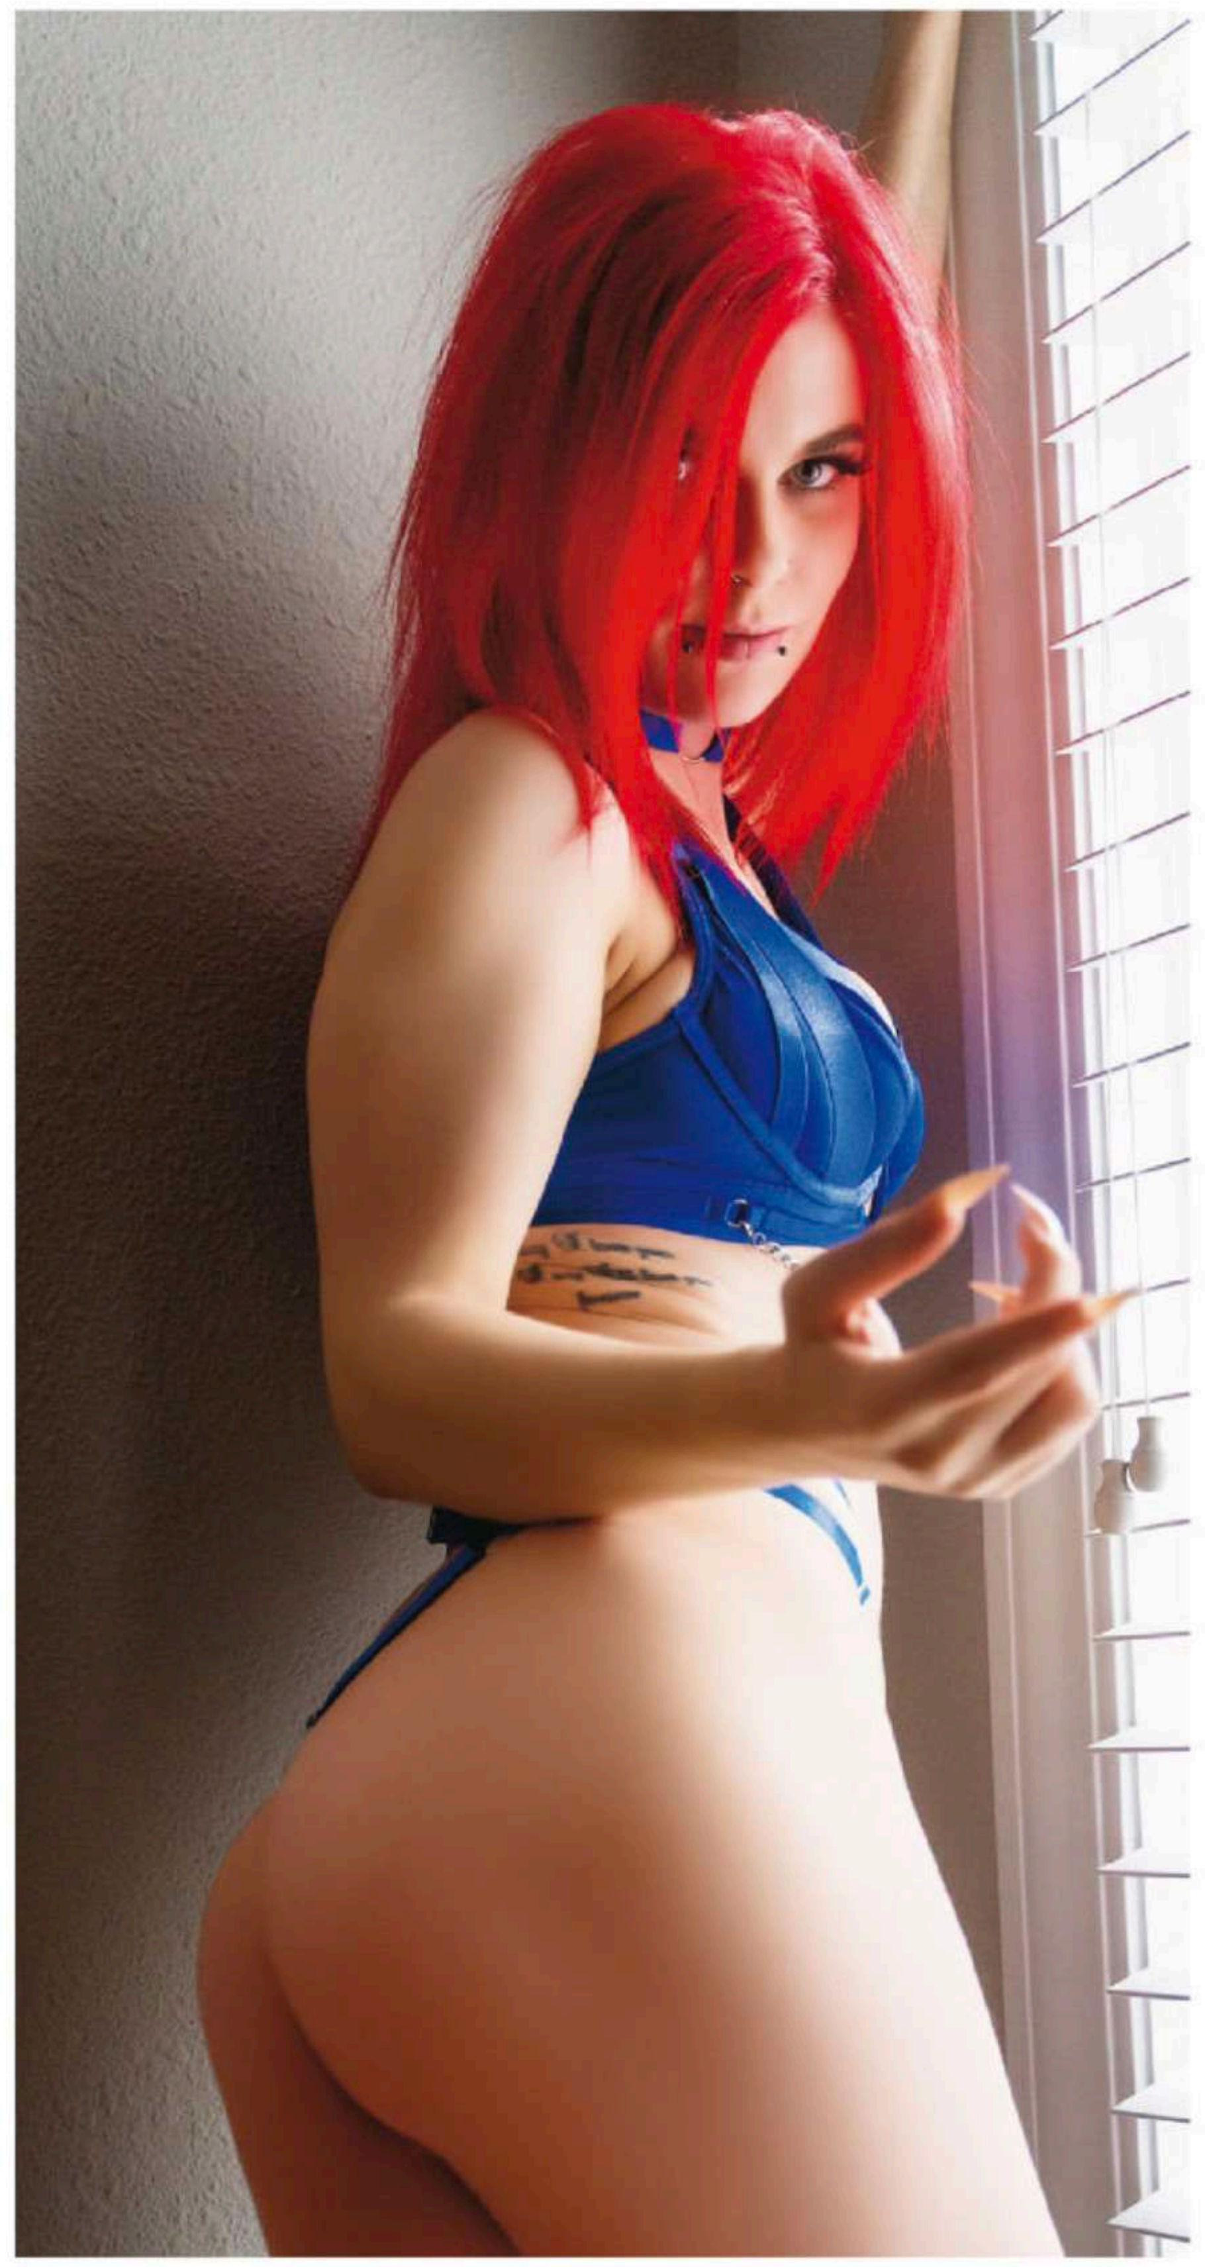
“I love posing nude and making men want to fuck me.”

SHARON WHITE



KAT KERBY

Kat Kerby, 31, is a college student and longtime HUSTLER fan from Detroit, Michigan. “Whenever I flipped through the pages and gazed in awe at the gorgeous models,” she recalls, “I’d say to myself, ‘I’m going to be like them one day.’ Finally, my dream has come true, and I hope to inspire more women to step out of their comfort zones and chase their dreams.” Asked to fill us in on her personality traits and interests, the 5-foot-6 Motor City denizen responds, “I’m goal-oriented, bubbly, flirty, funny and caring. In my spare time I enjoy gardening, cooking, fitness, hiking and crafts.” Flipping to her sexuality, Kat professes, “I’m a frisky, passionate, bisexual switch queen—meaning I’m either submissive or dominant depending on the moment—and sapiosexual. Wondering what that is? I’m turned on by a person’s intellect. I also love sucking dicks. Back in 2023 I was awarded the #1 Throat Goat Trophy for giving a competition’s best blowjob.” Kat continues, “Of course I’m a huge exhibitionist. I love the attention I get when people are watching me be pleased, and my ultimate fantasy is to take a grown man’s virginity. I want to please the guy and leave him with an unforgettable memory.”

“One of my fantasies is to attend a sex party where lots of people can watch as I strip and then get down and dirty.”
